Black History Month Website

Website Instructions

Your chosen Influential Black American, will be randomly selected (by me), using a number generator, the numbers match the people listed here.

Make sure that you learn what is unique about your chosen Influential Black American and what sets them apart from other people in history; did they invent something, what was their biggest accomplishment? This information, what sets them apart, will be the 2nd hyperlink on your website. Now, create a new folder titled, "the name of Influential Black American" inside of your network folder. Here is an example of possible folder title, "Percy Lavon Julian".

Now you will begin creating a web page about your chosen Influential Black American. In addition to the specific requirements listed below, you must have at least 4 hyperlinks, 3 of which must be done as follows:

-link (1) will be HOME and will target the main/target portion of your website (minimum of 200 words).
-link (2) will be specific to your Influential Black American (i.e. Percy Lavon Julian – "Pioneer in the chemical synthesis of medicinal drugs from plants").
-links (3) & (4) must contain information about your Influential Black American; the focus and content of these 2 pages will your decision – try to be cohesive.

Links/Pages 2, 3, 4 must have at least 3 thumbnailed images and a minimum of 200 (per page) that reflects the theme of the page. You are also required to give credit for all borrowed media and text.

Websites can be confusing and I want you to be very organized so that you will not find this lesson difficult. You will be required to name/title your various pages a particular way so that the web page will function properly. Incorrect titling of web pages will cause points to be taken off your grade.
